

AI Nurture Engine

TALKING POINTS • OCTOBER 2026

THE QUICK EXPLANATION

Alex is getting better at using information already in CINC to understand a lead and have more relevant conversations. The goal is to uncover motivation and timing, recognize intent, and help agents engage at the right moment.

THREE CORE MESSAGES

01 MORE CONTEXT

Alex can use available prior texts, website and listing activity, agent notes, and other lead information.

02 BETTER CONVERSATIONS

Alex can ask more relevant questions about needs, motivation, and timing.

03 AGENTS STILL MATTER

AI supports nurture; the agent owns the relationship and the transaction.

WHAT TO SAY TO CLIENTS

"This update helps Alex understand more of the lead's history, so its follow-up can be more relevant. It's designed to uncover intent and help your agents focus on the conversations that matter."

OCTOBER ROLLOUT

Timing. The phased rollout begins October 7 with domains starting A–G. Additional groups will be enabled throughout October.

If a client asks why it is not active: "We're rolling this out in phases throughout October. Your account may be in a later group."

COMMON CLIENT QUESTIONS

Is this a new AI? No. It's an enhancement to Alex.

What can Alex use? Available previous texts, website and listing activity, and agent notes.

Will this replace agents? No. It supports nurturing and helps identify when agents should engage.

Should agents stop following up? No. Timely follow-up remains essential, especially when intent appears.

Will Alex know everything? No. It can only use available lead context.

Will every lead become Agent-Ready? No. Agent-Ready is not a guaranteed outcome.

DO NOT OVERPROMISE

- Avoid guarantees: No promised appointments, conversions, perfect conversations, or specific increases in results.
- Do not speculate: Confirm eligibility, message cadence, account controls, and pause/stop behavior with Product.
